St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad (SLR)

The St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad (SLR) is a 157-mile short line railroad that interchanges with its sister railroad, the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad (Quebec) (SLQ), and Canadian National, New Hampshire & Vermont Railroad, New Hampshire Central Railroad, and Pan Am Railways.

Commodities transported include aggregates, brick and cement, chemicals, food and feed products, forest products, intermodal, and steel and scrap.

SLR has a 35-acre intermodal facility in Auburn, Maine, providing New England with double-stack container service via Canadian National. This gateway is the only C-TPAT-certified facility in New England.

SLR was acquired by Genesee & Wyoming in 2002.

SLR is part of Genesee & Wyoming Canada (GWCI) which is headquartered in Montreal, Quebec. GWCI includes nine short line railroads and three switching operations in four Canadian provinces and three U.S. states. GWCI also provides rail service to six ports in Eastern Canada.
